BUZZFEED NEWS’ MOBILE PHILOSOPHY

We want to be like your wittiest, most worldly friend. It’s not about news so much as it is about keeping our audiences informed and interesting.
Facebook is hiring 3,000 people to monitor for violence, following a spate of grisly videos that have plagued the site.

BuzzFeed News
Trump and his team's false statements come with an unprecedented frequency, scale, and lack of shame. Here's 100 of them.

Missy Elliott just dropped her first new song and video in ages. So put ya thang down, flip it, and reverse it 😎

Emmanuel Macron — who will be France's youngest president ever — rewrote the playbook of European politics and won.

If someone you know shares an unexpected Google Doc with you today, it might be a phishing attempt. Don't click it! 🚫

Robotic. Repetitive. Ruthlessly efficient. We saw firsthand how Theresa May's campaign is going exactly to plan.
Prince Philip, Queen Elizabeth II's 'strength all these years,' will retire this fall.

Prince Philip, the 95-year-old husband of Britain's Queen Elizabeth II, will step down from his public role this autumn.

Prince Philip, husband of Queen Elizabeth II, to retire from royal duties in the autumn, Buckingham Palace says.

Prince Philip, 95, will stand down from his royal duties later this year. But before the announcement, Twitter went wild.

Police in Minnesota shot and killed a black man after a traffic stop. A Facebook Live video captured the aftermath.

Man dies after being shot by a police officer during a traffic stop in Falcon Heights, Minnesota.

A 32-year-old man has died after being shot by a cop during a traffic stop in a St. Paul suburb, CBS Minnesota reports.

Key point: Captured via Facebook Live.
QUESTIONS WE’RE TRYING TO ANSWER

1. What’s the atomic unit of what someone needs to know about what’s going on in the world?

2. How can we add a little extra to that?

3. And how do we make all of the above fun?